

27th August 2007

HR EXCELLENCE AWARD.

We are delighted to announce that, Nelco has been conferred the “Amity HR Excellence Award” for the year 2007. This award was given to us during a glittering function on 22nd August 2007 at Noida.

This is one of the prestigious awards conferred on us by Amity International Business School, Noida among several other organisations who were researched for the best HR practices.

Our organisation was selected for the award based on the annual comprehensive HR practices prevailing in the organisation. The factors such as talent acquisition, lower employee turnover, lower absenteeism rate, increased customer satisfaction, higher economic returns and greater sustainability were examined using the surveys conducted by renowned HR consultants and a research team of faculty and students. A panel of judges composed of leading authors, academicians, and industry leaders declared Nelco, winner of this award.

Our team spirit at Nelco has enabled us to focus on “Cultivating Competency, Culture and Change”.
